

Need a fun break in a long, cold, grey winter?

Come to the 2013

Coyote Life Festival

February 22-24

Comins, MI

Celebrate Life, Love, and Laughter in the traditional “coyote spirit” with plenty of fun, food, games, drumming, singing, storytelling, sharing, and thanksgiving.

FRIDAY EVENING

Arrive 5-8pm

Meet, mix, and mingle with refreshments*

8-10pm: Drumming, singing, bonfire (weather permitting)

10pm: Canupa (pipe) prayer ceremony

 As we honor the needs of everyone in our community, we ask that this event remain alcohol and drug free.*

SATURDAY

7:30am: Pancake breakfast

Morning games, crafts, workshops

12 noon: Soup/sandwich/potluck lunch

Afternoon games, crafts

Explore outdoors (weather permitting)

Learn drumming, songs, and stories

5-8pm: Chili supper (open to the public)

Chili, cornbread, cole slaw, pie

$5 to the public, free to festival participants

Drumming, dancing, singing, sharing, contests, prizes and more!

Theme: Learning to celebrate life with gratitude!

Later: evening prayers and discussion, and perhaps some howling at the moon.

SUNDAY

8:30am: Breakfast

10am: Blessing the land; drumming, singing, canupa prayer ceremony

12 noon: Leftover lunch, cleanup the food and grounds, farewell

Register now for the full weekend experience! Call 989-848-5757 or email Sally@FollowtheBuffalo.org or Tim@HealingLifeways.org

Cost: Full weekend—a suggested minimum donation of $40 includes all food and supplies; bring simple food to share for Friday evening and Saturday lunch)

Chili supper only $5 + nonperishable food for local distribution

(All proceeds go to charity; we will gratefully accept additional gifts)

Need reasonable lodging for the weekend? Call us for information.

Proceeds from this event will benefit Follow the Buffalo, Inc., a nonprofit volunteer organization that provides assistance to the Lakota people of the Pine Ridge Reservation. For more information, call 989-848-5757 or see www.FollowtheBuffalo.org.

Sponsored by

Healing Lifeways & Follow the Buffalo, Inc.